We drive off delivering the best shopping experience for our customers focusing on service, selling and efficient delivery of operational task with a store.

One thing's for sure, retail is playing a critical role in these uncertain times, and M&S is ready to push boundaries to lead the industry into a greener, speedier more inspiring digital era. That's why there revolutionising how we work and offering our most exciting opportunities yet, attracting the big thinkers, bold movers and boundary breakers. More and more, they're realising there's never been a better time to join us and make an immediate impact.

At M&S, we respect and value each other's difference and we help each other be the best version of ourselves. When you can bring your whole self to work, you perform better and feel better. That's good for everyone. Diverse teams bring around greater innovation, better decision making and high performance.

For M&S to continue being successful, we must understand and reflect our diverse customer base and the communities in which they live. We have come a long way and we know we have work to do.

It is hugely important to me that we maintain that sense of belonging. And that means ensuring our culture is inclusive for everyone-our colleague, customers and communities.

Back in the Game: Supporting LGBTQ+ young people into education, employment or training

Stonewall Cymru is working with the School of Hard Knocks to deliver a new empowerment programme for LGBTQ+ young people aged 16-25 who are aren't in education, employment or training.

What: We've created a digitally delivered empowerment programme to inspire and support LGBTQ+ young people.

Each morning session is structured around three core elements: The Body, The Mind and The Future. Each core element will allow participants to develop a growth mindset as they set the direction for their future.

Workshops will also include:

- How to set effective goals
- How to look for opportunities
- Interview skills
- How to manage online image
- How to be a star at work.

The programme will be delivered in English.

Where: The morning sessions will be delivered online.

When: The programme will be delivered over a number of weeks. To take part, you will need to be available on:

Thursday 27 January 2022 09:30-12:00

Friday 28 January 2022 09:30-12:00

Thursday 3 February 2022 09:30-12:00

Friday 4 February 2022 09:30-12:00

Friday 11 February 2022 09:30-12:00

Who: We're looking for 15 LGBTQ+ young people living in Wales who aren't in education, employment or training?

Please share the information pack and application form with any young people/youth groups/organisations who might be interested in this programme.

If you have any questions about Back in the Game, please email education@stonewall.cymru.
